

THE DUALPLEX STANDARD VIDEO GAME LICENSE – Ownership of Copy

© 2026 Mochabyte

You are purchasing ownership of a specific copy of this video game under the Dualplex Standard License. The intellectual property remains with the developer.

“Ownership” under the context of this license refers to every individual person or entity that purchases any copy of this game that is licensed under this document are required to have permanent, irrevocable rights to:

- Access, play, and use all personally bought copies of this game
- Create and keep digital backups
- Modify this game’s code and assets for personal, non-commercial use
- Legally resell, gift, or transfer that particular copy

The following technical measures are required:

- Users must be able to access their purchased copy of this game entirely offline

- The purchased copy includes the right to receive and own all future updates to that copy, if any are released

- Users who download free downloadable content or purchase paid downloadable content of this game own that downloadable content under the same ownership terms as the base game

- Required always-online Digital Rights Management (DRM) for any offline or single-player modes within this game are prohibited

The rights above apply only to the particular copy owned; they do not authorize redistribution of the game's content beyond that single copy or any claim to the developer's intellectual property (IP).

This license governs ownership of the copy. Delivery, account services, online features, and platform-specific rules remain subject to the terms of the store or platform through which the copy was obtained.

Any attempts to claim the developer's intellectual property (IP) or to commercially redistribute the game beyond a single owned copy may create liability under applicable law.

If any part of this licensing is held unenforceable, the rest remains in effect. The game is provided as-is; the developer makes no warranties beyond what mandatory law requires.

By purchasing or downloading a copy under this license you accept these terms.